Professional Certificate in Visual Storytelling

The Professional Certificate program at Maine Media Workshops + College is an interdisciplinary and immersive 30-week program in the art and craft of visual storytelling. Students aspiring to careers as artists and working professionals in the world of media arts become fluent in multiple forms of visual media in order to effectively tell a story—whether it is one of personal expression, documentary journalism, social advocacy, or fictional narrative.

The Professional Certificate program is designed to graduate visual storytellers with the skills, vision, experience, and knowledge needed to build a career in the evolving field of media arts.

The curriculum allows photographers, filmmakers, and media artists to master an individual craft (still or video) as well as to experiment, integrate, and collaborate with other students in multiple types of media.

Come for 30 weeks on campus and immerse yourself in the rich learning environment of a community dedicated to your success. Application deadline is June 2 for the fall 2017 program. Applications after this deadline are welcome, but will be reviewed on a space-available basis.

Certificate in Collaborative Filmmaking

Maine Media Workshops + College offers the Certificate in Collaborative Filmmaking as a 30-week program to provide filmmakers with the skills that are in high demand in the contemporary film industry. Industry professionals will serve as instructors for this program and the curriculum is tightly focused on the concrete expertise and knowledge sought after in the filmmaking marketplace.

Maine Media created this program to serve as an accelerated route to get into the film industry. It is ideal for college graduates seeking specific skill sets sought after in the film industry, and for professionals in other careers looking to switch gears and join the filmmaking world. Other students might select this certificate in lieu of a traditional four-year college experience. Maine Media also expects the certificate to be an invaluable asset for independent filmmakers interested in further developing their knowledge. Upon completion of this certificate, each student will have completed their first short film for a professional reel, an incredible milestone on the path to a future in filmmaking.
